Salvia × 'Amistad'
Amistad Sage

Also known as: Friendship Sage | Family: Lamiaceae

Beltline N_S: 28 TOTAL 28

OTHER

OTHER

OTHER

FLOWER

QUICK FACTS

Plant Type: Not stated

Evergreen or deciduous
Well adapted to Atlanta Zone 8a. Performs as a reliable perennial in Zone 8 with good drainage and mulch. Long bloom into fall. Prefers full sun; some afternoon shade acceptable in extreme heat. Excellent pollinator plant. May die back in winter but returns from roots. Cuttings recommended for insur

Growth & Size
Rate: Not stated
Size: 3–5 ft tall, 2–4 ft wide. Vigorous, upright, bushy perennial or sub 5 m), NC State Extension (4–5 ft), Grow Paradise (3–5 ft), BBC Gardeners World, ToughKraut Zone 8a guide

Sun

Water

Soil
Well-drained, average to fertile soils. Prefers shelter

Zone 8a
Well adapted to Atlanta Zone 8a. Performs as a reliable perennial in Zone 8 with good drainage and mulch. Long bloom into fall. Prefers full sun; some afternoon shade acceptable in extreme heat. Excellent pollinator plant. May die back in winter but returns from roots. Cuttings recommended for insurance

ORIGIN AND CHARACTERISTICS

Origin
Hybrid (often linked to S. guaranitica parentage).
Garden origin (Argentina). Not native

Form
Herbaceous perennial or semi-woody.
Upright, bushy, freely branching. Rapid growth

Foliage
Aromatic, bright green, slender to ovate, slightly downy or glossy leaves

Flowers and fruit
Large, deep purple / violet tubular flowers with near-black calyces. Continuous bloom early summer to first frost. Attracts bees, butterflies, hummingbirds. RHS AGM.
Raised in Argentina; name means "friendship"

Bark
Not stated

PLANTING NOTES

Planting
None stated

HEALTH

Health
Generally low maintenance and problem-free.
Deer resistant. Root rot in wet soils

Symptoms
None stated