Zamia pumila

Coontie, Florida Arrowroot, Seminole Bread

Passage N_S: 2 TOTAL 2

HABIT

OTHER

LEAF

OTHER

QUICK FACTS

Plant Type: Not stated

Evergreen or deciduous
Evergreen

Growth & Size
Rate: Not stated
Size: 2–4 ft tall × 3–5+ ft spread. Clumping from underground stem; may form colonies

Sun ☼

Water ●●○○○

Soil
Well-drained sandy or sandy loam soils

Zone 8a
Hardy in Zones 8–11. Suitable for Atlanta with good drainage and protection from extreme cold. Slow-growing evergreen accent

PLANTING NOTES

Planting
None stated

ORIGIN AND CHARACTERISTICS

Origin
Not stated

Form
Evergreen cycad with subterranean trunk and terminal rosettes of pinnate leaves

Foliage
Stiff, glossy dark green pinnate leaves to 3 ft long with narrow leaflets. Fern-like appearance

Flowers and fruit
Dioecious. Male and female cones (rusty-brown) emerge at ground level. Female produces orange-red seeds

Bark
Not stated

HEALTH

Health
Susceptible to scale. All parts toxic if ingested without proper preparation. Larval host for Atala butterfly (southern range)

Symptoms
None stated